Welcome Kaydence Congleton

Chesapeake Yacht Sales is excited to welcome Kaydence Congleton, a native of Middlesex, VA who grew up surrounded by the serene waters of the Rappahannock and Piankatank Rivers near Deltaville. Her childhood was filled with expeditions, boating adventures, and occasional sails, instilling in her a deep appreciation for the natural beauty of the Middle Peninsula.

Currently residing in Wake, VA, Kaydence is eager to expand her knowledge and experience in yacht sales, driven by her passion for boats and the marine industry. She finds joy in her role at Chesapeake Yacht Sales, where she can combine her love for the outdoors with her career aspirations.

Kaydence's family roots in the area run deep; her grandparents relocated from the Appalachian regions of Virginia to embrace the riverside lifestyle; a legacy continued by her parents who were also raised in this picturesque locale. She completed her education at Middlesex High School and furthered her studies at Rappahannock Community College.

Outside of work, Kaydence can often be found at the beach, immersed in a good book, or expressing her creativity through painting. She is driven to learn and grow professionally while cherishing the natural wonders that surround her. 📍

CATALINA 355 AT THE ANNAPOLIS BOAT SHOW

Apprenticeship Completed: Dylan O'Hare

Registered Virginia State Apprenticeship Consultant, Clayton Duvall, presented Dylan O'Hare, DYC Marine Technician, with a Va. State Marine Technician Journeyman Certificate. Mr. O'Hare has completed two years of technical training in marine electrical, engines, systems, rigging and structural repair, along with coursework in computer skills, 10 Hour OSHA safety and boatyard heavy equipment operation. The coursework requirements for completing the Marine Technician Apprenticeship(s) are carefully monitored, including at least 3 years of on the job experience under senior technical supervision for a total combined experience and coursework of 4,000 hours.

FAR RIGHT: DYLAN O'HARE

Deltaville Yachting Center has been an active Virginia State Apprenticeship sponsor since 2003. DYC will continue to support Dylan O'Hare's education as he continues to expand his marine technical skills through ABYC certification and a variety of dealership factory training courses. ↓

An advertisement for a generator. The image shows a white generator on a wooden stand. The advertisement is framed by a thick yellow rope border. On the right side, there is a blue box with the DYC logo and the text 'For Sale', 'Fantastic Deal on Generator', and 'info@dychcoat.com'. A small sign on the generator says 'Customers Clean Install 5KW Generator' and 'Upgrade today to have back all through your winter sailing! Contact the Service Department for a quote.'

TODD & JENNY L.

DYC Boaters Excited To Start New Adventure

By Hunter Inge

I had the opportunity to talk to long time DYC customers Todd & Jenny L. and ask them some questions about their next adventure as well as their boating past.

What made you decide to buy a boat?

They answered, “Jenny grew up on boats and had years of experience.” She asked Todd if he would buy a boat with her which is when they purchased their 2010 Catalina 25”.

What classes would you recommend to new boaters?

Todd answered “Classes 101, 103, and 104 through the American Sailing Association. I would also recommend classes through the Annapolis School of Seamanship.”

What are you planning in the upcoming year?

“We will be coastal cruising to the Bahamas”. They expressed their excitement about cruising, new exploration, and meeting new people in the cruising community.

What brought you to DYC?

“We met Lew and Onna at the Annapolis Sailboat Show. Their kindness and warm welcome brought us to DYC. In 2017, with their help, we bought our current Catalina 387.” ↓

We Wish Todd & Jenny Smooth Sailing
